In Pursuit of Tea

with Sebastian Beckwith

Monday, March 5, 2007

8:00 pm

Selecting the right tea can often be baffling when faced with the wide range of varieties. But did you know that all teas come from the same plant? Sebastian Beckwith, a ranking American tea authority and owner of the company In Pursuit of Tea, will discuss the origin and history of the tea plant and explain the differences in processing which are very regional and specific to different types of tea. Sebastian will illustrate the talk with slides of his recent trip to Asia where he was, once again, in pursuit of tea.

We will also learn about the present day situation in the tea market as well tips for buying, storing and brewing tea at home.

Tea tasting and refreshments will follow.

Location: National Arts Club
15 Gramercy Park South

Lecture begins promptly at 8:00 pm
